Pres. Wilkinson Refuses Possible U. S. Court Bid

PRESIDENT Ernest L Wilkinson has turned down a possible bid to the United States Supreme Court.

Saturday the Brigham Young University president requested that his name not be submitted to President Eisenhower for consideration for appointment to the nation's highest court to succeed Justice Stanley F. Reed

"IT DOES not seem to me timely that I should have my friends recommend me for this appointment," he said

Pres Wilkinson said he appreciated the compliment extended him by senior Senator Arthur V. Watkins (R-Utah) in a newspaper interview last week when Watkins stated that he intended to present his (Wilkinson's) name for the appointment.

"This would be a great honor to any attorney in the country," he stated.

The BYU president said the recovery from his recent illness would permit and enable him to render full service to the court.

The responsibilities, though arduous and exacting, would be no more burdensome than his present ones of administering the complex affairs of a "great university which has doubled in enrollment during the last five years and which is certain to have much larger growth."

HE SAID he has now assumed the responsibilities of administering the school which has grown to become the largest church-related institution of higher learning in the United States.

"Nevertheless," said the president, "I have asked Senator Watkins not to present my name because of the responsibilities which I have undertaken as president of Brigham Young University and administrator of the school system of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints."

'Thanks, Hoyt' Says Watts To DU Coach

by Jerry Cunningham

EXCERPT Soon a potential let-er from Stan Watts to Hoyt Brawner: "Appreciate the kindly gesture, Hoyt. Will try to return the favor some day."

Only a week ago Utah and Montana were the second place just two games behind league-leading BYU. But Brawner and his Denver charges knocked off the Utes and Silvertips to virtually clinch the title for Coach Watts and his Brigham

THE ONLY race in the Sky-Hi conference now is for second place. The cougars are perched majestically atop the league with a 9-1 record, Montana, Denver and Utah are tied for second place with 6-4 marks, three full games behind.

Only four tilts are left on each team's schedule.

BYU must lose every one of its remaining four games and a second place team must win both of its to deprive the Mormons to lose the conference championship.

BYU can clinch at least a tie for the hunting with a single win against the Indians, with two wins the crown sewed up.

Some leniency toward errors may needed to win championships. Case in point: Utah 6, M 31-6; Denver 19, Wyoming 48-47 Saturday.

The Pioneers clipped Montana 20-19 in Denver Thursday and then outplayed Utah's Mighty Utes to win 34-30.

This week's schedule: Thursday, Utah State at Montana and CU at Utah; Friday: Denver at Colorado A&M and New Mexico at Wyoming; Saturday: Utah State at Utah, Denver at Wyoming, BYU at Idaho and New Mexico at Colorado A&M

That's Rich

by Rich Hall

It begins to look like a trip to Corvallis, Ore. and the NCAA Western Regional Basketball will be the affair for the Cougars.

The Brigham's double win this weekend over Colorado A&M and Wyoming plus Denver's upset downing of both Montana and Utah, pretty well puts the Cats in the driver's seat as far as the conference race goes.

If the Cougars win two of the four games remaining on their schedule they have first place all sewed up. If Utah, Denver or Montana can win all of their remaining games, and the Cats drop three, a very unlikely event, then the race could end in a tie.

The loss of Tom Steinke for the Wyoming tilt at first looked like a black event for the Cats, but then reserve Mel Wilkes came out on the floor and, along with John Benson, led the way to a resounding victory over the Cowpokes.

Steinke, for those who haven't heard as yet, sprained his ankle in the first half of the Colorado A&M game Friday evening. The ankle didn't bother him until after the game when it had cooled down, then it began swelling. Steinke will be taking it easy the first part of the week, working his ankle slowly trying to get it in shape for Thursday's clash with the slipped Utes pro-tem.

However, fans, looking to Wilkes efforts of Saturday night, are not as shook over the possible loss of Steinke as they were Saturday afternoon.

Steinke will definitely be needed by the Cats to bolster their chances for a win at Utah, but his loss will not mean a lopsided debacle handed the Brighams by the Redskins

The University of Denver ball club and Coach Howy Brawner, deserve a lot of credit for taking some of the pressure off the Cougars in the home stretch segment of the conference crown race.

There was over Montana and Utah in the same week loom as a terrific effort on the Pioneer's part, considering their season record to date plus the predictions concerning them at the start of the year. And holding Mdi Kane to 8 points deserves mention also. That also points up the interesting fact that as goes Kane, so goes Utah.

And to our "unbiased, neutral" sports writers on the Salt Lake papers may we say: "Nice try, but that's the way it goes!"

Utah Tilt Tickets Distribution Outlined

The tickets for the Brigham Young University-University of Utah basketball game at Salt Lake City Thursday night have been received and will be distributed Thursday morning at 8 a.m., according to Floyd Tayler, ticket manager.

The tickets will be given on a first come, first served basis Thursday morning, with not one being able to reserve them in advance.

Students are reminded that they will only be able to pick up one ticket apiece, no matter how many activity cards they present at the ticket window. People planning on sitting together at the game must pick up their tickets together Thursday morning.

The game will be televised over KSL-TV Thursday evening

IN IT GOES—Tom Steinke, of long shot fame, shows he can hit them up close too, as he drives for a two-pointer in the Cat-Ram tilt Friday night. BYU won the game 81-66.

Kittens Continue Winning Way Down Dugway, Hill AF Quints

by Jack Batchler

PACED BY Helm and Eaton Coach Bob Bunker's much substituted Cougar Frosh easily put away the visiting Dugway Proving Grounds crew with 53 points to spare on Friday evening The final tally was 95-40.

The win, which was the eighth straight for the Kittens was highlighted by the excellent floor play of guards Earl Doman and Jim Rice. Don Helm, the Frosh high man, tallied 18 points, while Valoy Eaton turned in an aggregate of 16.

UP UNTIL the end of the first quarter Dugway team was very much in the game, keeping pace with the Kittens 18-23 However, the Freshmen, with what seemed to be a squad-football substitution, began to look more like a basketball team and straightened up to their full play, increasing their lead until the halftime score was 22.

SATURDAY evening's preliminary between the Hill Air Force and the Cougar Frosh once began saw the Kittens successful in turning down the Hill quint. The score at the final buzz was the Kittens 92- Hill Force Base 49

Perhaps as a forecast of things to come in varsity games an experiment of using three referees was made during the Frosh tussle. As yet, no announcement has been made as to the effects of this style of officiating

Standout players on Coach Bunker's squad were Lyle Gleave, who top-scored for the Kittens with 15 points Eaton with 14 points, and Doman who added 12 to the total
